From Farmer Scott

It has been so warm lately that it's feeling more like summer – if it weren't for the amount of daylight we get. The day length is what makes the time of year very clear. We are approaching my favorite holiday, where we get to celebrate by making and eating wonderful food. The farm store will be stocked full of produce from the farm, as well as extra purchased produce. I hope you all will enjoy a happy and healthy Thanksgiving.

The most recent report on the electric delivery truck involves the soon-to-be-installed battery pack of lithium phosphorus batteries. They will give us a range of 90 miles, thus making it possible to use the truck without running a generator. I have been striving to modify the generator to run on an alternative fuel, such that it would be not only super efficient, but have very low emissions. As with many things, it is not always as easy as it seemed in the beginning. I am determined and will persevere until I have at least improved on the original generator's capabilities. I look forward to not needing the generator to extend the current truck's range. Be well.

In your box today:

All from the surprisingly warm fields of the farm, our “beyond organic” salad mix, parsnips, turnips, collards, and onions; also Shiitake mushrooms from Moss Landing and celery from San Juan Bautista.

NEXT WEEK'S THANKSGIVING BOXES

...will be made on Tuesday, November 25 and WEDNESDAY, November 26. Thursday subscribers can pick up your boxes as early as 1:00 PM Wednesday, as well as Thanksgiving day (and through 9 PM Saturday evening).

THE LAGUNA FARM ARTISAN STORE is now open Fridays from 3 – 6 PM. This week and next week, the store will be stocked with an abundance of produce and lots of extra items to make sure you have plenty of food for your big meal. The store will be open Tuesday, Wednesday and Friday (you can come to pick up your box on Thanksgiving Day, but the store will be closed). Thanks for your support!

BUYER'S CLUB FOOD ORDER

As we have in the past, we will soon place an order with Mountain People's Warehouse (now under the name United Natural Foods). This wholefoods distributor carries most grocery, bulk, frozen and body care products found in your local natural food stores, and offers them at wholesale prices with our group order. We used to set out catalogs and order forms on the blue CSA table in the barn, but now, item selection and ordering is done online. If you are interested in participating, call Kelly at the barn phone (823-0824) during store hours, and she will get you started. DEADLINE IS DECEMBER 1.
