March 2 and 4, 2010 WEEK A

From Farmer Scott

Spring is starting to show around the county with the early bloomers. All this rainfall is going to make for a luscious growth of vegetation in the fields. I am thankful for the Sparks Rd. field for its accessibility during wet periods.

Such a contrast between the fields here and the golden field around the corner. No that is not golden rice growing there, that is Herbicide sign. I am sad that the soil there is treated so poorly. To just wipeout the biological top zone not to mention the underground zone is irresponsible. There are a lot of lazy farming practices that are the norm in our Agribusiness food production system. There are times I wished there was a magic material that would stop the growth of the undesirable plants otherwise known as "Weeds", and not effect the rest of the Biotic community. Alas it is not possible because as we know we are one, and everything is connected. Thanks for supporting sustainable farming. Be well.

In your box today:

From the fields of the farm, our "beyond organic" salad mix, Green garlic and Red mustard from fall plantings here at the farm, Mandarins from the Sierra Foothills, Carrots from our friends at Oak Hill Farm in Sonoma and Yellow Onions from Hollister, Ca.

EVERY-OTHER-WEEK subscribers: EFFECTIVE THIS WEEK, you'll see an additional $2.00 per week surcharge to your subscription. We are implementing this change because the farm receives half the income for the same administrative costs with an every-other-week subscription.

Also effective this week, we may cancel your subscription if you miss picking up your box twice in a 30 day period. Please check the top right hand area of your invoice for your pick-up dates! Of course you are always welcome to switch to an every-week schedule.

EARTH CAMP CRV SCHOLARSHIP PROGRAM !

As you may know, Laguna Farm hosts and helps support our Earth Camp Collective, a non-profit organization that teaches children sustainable living skills here at the farm. Earth Camp received many requests last year for scholarship assistance that we could not fulfill. To respond, Laguna Farm has graciously offered to host a program for your contributions:

We've set up a CRV (Calif. Redemption Value) station in the parking area. Bring in any bottles (white, green, brown - but NOT wine bottles), aluminum cans, and numbers 1 & 2 plastic containers, and we will redeem them for cash for the children!

This is a labor of love for all of us, and we thank you for your support! Should you have any questions, comments, or concerns, please contact us at the number listed below, and blessings to you all! -The Earth Camp Collective 707-824-1600

WE WILL NOT BE RAISING THE BOX PRICE THIS SEASON, but.....you may see some fluctuations in prices on items in the farm store - both a bit higher and lower.
